

The Journal for Geographic Information Science issue 1-2015 presents peer-reviewed papers presented at the Geoinformatics Forum (www.gi-forum.org), held in Salzburg from July 7-10, 2015. The annual GI_Forum symposium provides a platform for dialogue among geospatial minds in an ongoing effort to support the creation of an informed GISociety.

In this issue, the following topics are addressed:

- GIScience Contributions for Society
- Learning with Geoinformation
- Earth Observation for Humanitarian Operations
- GI for Public Health
- Technical and Human Sensors
- Transportation Modelling
- Environmental GIS and Applications
