

Contents

Introduction

- Population decline: Towards a rational, scientific research agenda 1
Zuzanna Brzozowska, Ekaterina Zhelenkova and Stuart Gietel-Basten

Debate

- Like high cholesterol, population decline is a problem, but not in the way you might think 15
Wendy Sigle
- The human eco-predicament: Overshoot and the population conundrum . 21
William E. Rees
- Population decline will likely become a global trend and benefit long-term human wellbeing 41
Wolfgang Lutz
- Depopulation or population decline? Demographic nightmares and imaginaries 57
Stuart Gietel-Basten
- A governance perspective on East Central Europe's population
predicament: Young exit, grey voice and lopsided loyalty 69
Pieter Vanhuysse
- Low, but not too low, fertility can represent a positive development 81
Vegard Skirbekk
- The key role of early education in an ageing and shrinking population:
The example of Germany 93
Elke Loichinger and C. Katharina Spiess

Perspectives

- Implementing youth-oriented policies: A remedy for depopulation in rural regions? 107
Martina Schorn

Review Articles

- Revisiting the impact of urban shrinkage on residential segregation in European cities 151
David Huntington

Research Articles

- Immigration and the prospects for long-run population decreases in European countries 181
Nick Parr

- How much would reduced emigration mitigate ageing in Norway? 211
Marianne Tønnessen and Astri Syse

- The triple burden of depopulation in Ukraine: examining perceptions of population decline 245
Brienna Perelli-Harris and Yuliya Hilevych

- Is Spanish depopulation irreversible? Recent demographic and spatial changes in small municipalities 277
Fernando Gil-Alonso, Jordi Bayona-i-Carrasco and Isabel Pujadas-Rúbies

- Neighbourhood effects and determinants of population changes in Italy: A spatial perspective 311
Federico Benassi, Annalisa Busetta, Gerardo Gallo, and Manuela Stranges

- Demographic sustainability in Italian territories: The link between depopulation and population ageing 339
Cecilia Reynaud and Sara Miccoli

- Parsimonious stochastic forecasting of international and internal migration on the NUTS-3 level – an outlook of regional depopulation trends in Germany 361
Patrizio Vanella, Timon Hellwagner and Philipp Deschermeier

Data & Trends

- Depopulation in Moldova: The main challenge in the context of extremely high emigration 419
Olga Gagauz, Tatiana Tabac and Irina Pahomii